

Issue 3
now available!

Legal Craft & Such

Subscribe to Legal Craft & Such, the Bar Council Professional Development Department ("CPD Department") online publication, for free. The third issue of LCAS is now available to browse, and the past issue(s) is accessible from the digital archive.

The publication includes:

- (1) news and updates about Bar Council activities, general information about the CPD scheme, and updated CPD calendars; and
- (2) a dedicated section — "The Journal" — focusing on articles on law-related matters, as well as those of general interest, contributed by Members of the Bar, pupils in chambers, law students and academics.

Legal Craft & Such is a joint project between the CPD Department and Thomson Reuters, with the latter providing free access to ProView, an eBook platform designed for professionals, for the benefit of Members of the Bar.

Getting Started

- Click here for a complimentary subscription to Legal Craft & Such. After completing the registration process, you will receive a confirmation email from Thomson Reuters's Customer Service, which contains your unique registration key, and instructions on how to set up your ProView \(OnePass\) account. Please allow up to 48 hours for your registration to be processed.

Next, click here to download the ProView app on your preferred device (Windows or Mac desktop / laptop, Android tablet or iPad). An internet connection is required to download the app and Legal Craft & Such for the first time. After the download, you can access ProView and its content — so you can read on the go! Then, click on the ProView app icon to log in using your OnePass account. Future editions of Legal Craft & Such will appear in your library.

- ProView can also be accessed directly from your browser using your OnePass account. Click here to login from your browser.
- If you need assistance to set up your OnePass account, kindly click here.

Visit www.ProView.Asia for more information about ProView app, and other professional eBooks and journals that are available for subscription, and ProView FAQ and User Guide.

Are you interested in contributing to Legal Craft & Such?

If you would like to contribute articles to Legal Craft & Such, please submit your articles to lcas@malaysianbar.org.my.

We hope that you will subscribe to Legal Craft & Such!

Richard Wee Thiam Seng
Chairperson
Bar Council Professional Standards and Development Committee