The Advocacy Training Committee is organising an advanced-level advocacy training course regarding the handling of financial expert evidence.

This course will feature:

- (i) senior and experienced trainers from Australia, Hong Kong, Singapore, South Africa, and the United Kingdom;
- (ii) local judges and practitioners; and
- (iii) accountants as expert witnesses.

This course will cover the following:

- (i) The handling of expert evidence from the perspective of judges and senior practitioners;
- (ii) An introduction to financial statements, and the issues and terminology involved;
- (iii) The consideration and evaluation of two expert reports by financial experts;
- (iv) Practical and useful guidance on how to handle financial experts and expert reports in court;
- (v) The handling of consultations with experts; and
- (vi) Reviews of the performance of participants in examination-in-chief and cross-examination of financial experts regarding their reports.

The trainers for the course include the following:

- (1) Russell Coleman SC (Hong Kong);
- (2) Liza Jane Cruden (Hong Kong);
- (3) Anna Anandale SC (South Africa);
- (4) David Unterhalter SC (South Africa);
- (5) Mark Mulholland QC (Northern Ireland);
- (6) Claire Blanchard QC (United Kingdom);
- (7) Sharise Weiner J (South Africa);
- (8) Samuel Chacko (Singapore); and
- (9) Matthew Howard SC (Australia).

The course is recommended for Members of the Bar who wish to refine their knowledge and skills in handling expert evidence, particularly those with at least five years of experience. Prior completion of the basic advocacy training course conducted by the Advocacy Training Committee is recommended, but not essential.

The course carries 16 points for trainers, facilitators and participants under the Bar Council Continuing Professional Development ("CPD") Scheme.

Registration Fee (Fee is inclusive of 6% GST)
