

Subject: 6th Training Course of the China-ASEAN Legal Training Base

Dear Sir or Madam,

To fulfill the Nanning Declaration and propel mutual understanding and cooperation between legal professionals of China and ASEAN countries, China Law Society is to hold the 6th Training Course of the China-ASEAN Legal Training Base from Oct. 21 to Nov. 17, 2012 in Chongqing Municipality, China. The Training Course aims to provide its participants with necessary general information on China's legal system and its civil and economic laws, especially the latest development of its regulations and policies concerning China-ASEAN FTA. It will be held with a view to enhancing trade, social and legal-professional ties between China and ASEAN countries, and providing intellectual support for the all-around cooperation between China and ASEAN.

The Training Course will take 4 weeks, comprising three sections: academic training, practical activities and academic workshops. We will invite well-known scholars, officials and lawyers in China to give lectures during the academic training. And the practical activities will include visits to Chongqing-based courts and procuratorates, meetings with Chinese legal professionals, etc.

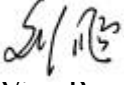

Applicable to each ASEAN country, the Training Course will admit TWENTY trainees. Every national legal organization or authority in ASEAN countries can recommend ONE-TWO candidates and China Law Society will select and qualify TWO of them as formal applicants. And China Law Society will assume in full each trainee's expenses in China that relate to the Training Course. The language used for the Training Course will be English.

Given that trade and economic laws will take a great proportion in the curriculum of the Training Course, it is better if each candidate's occupation is or will be closely related to business and trade with China. We hope that upon the trainees' return to their home countries, the knowledge and experience they learned during the Training Course could expand their professional scope and help them handle relevant cases more reasonably, efficiently and smoothly. For detailed requirements of the Training Course, please kindly reach the attached documents.

To establish the China-ASEAN Legal Training Base, we have got strong support from competent departments of the Chinese Government, and related legal institutions, universities and local law societies in China. We firmly believe that, with our joint efforts, the Training Base will become a long-term platform and channel for information exchange, talents training and pragmatic, mutually-beneficial cooperation between Chinese and ASEAN legal communities, and that it will surely contribute to a more prosperous future of China and ASEAN countries.

Your kind support and positive response will be highly appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

Liu Yang
Executive Vice-President
China Law Society
