Breakout Session 9

30 Oct 2026 (Friday) | 9:00 am to 10:15 am

International Trade and Commodities Today: Balancing Economic Security and the Rule of Law

This session will address the current state of international trade and commodities, particularly in view of heightened protectionist measures and the disruptions to the supply of oil to global markets. This session will examine how these developments have affected cross-border transactional dealings and disputes, and the role of the rule of law in the context of such developments.

Join us for an insightful discussion on how these developments are shaping cross-border transactions and disputes, and the role of the rule of law in addressing the challenges arising from them.
