Overview

Kishore Sharma will give a brief introduction to the law of sea carriers' obligations and defences (Hague-Visby Rules, specifically Article III Rule 1 and 2, and Article IV Rule 2). He will present a cargo damage scenario for the speakers to discuss. Dr Arun Kasi and Graham Harris will speak on carriers' obligations that include seaworthiness, cargoworthiness, bailees' duties and on carriers' defences. The programme is intended to bring practical guidance to the audience about handling cargo claims.

Moderator

Kishore Sharma

4-5 Gray's Inn Square (Barristers' Chambers), London

Kishore is an English barrister with 4-5 Gray's Inn Square, London. He was called to the English Bar in 1986. He has more than 30 years of experience in handling and representing clients' interests in international and domestic commercial litigation and arbitration in England. His focus spans carriage by sea and storage of bulk and containerised goods, insurance (marine, and all classes of non-marine and reinsurance business), international trade, banking, commercial fraud, constructive trust / tracing actions, and corporate insolvency. He has regularly advised/acted for London market and overseas insurers and reinsurers, commodities traders, cargo claimants, shipowners, charterers, disponent owners and sub-charterers, protection and indemnity insurance ("P&I") clubs, marine insurers, banks and other counterparties. The values involved in the cases that he advises and acts in have often been in the millions and, on occasion, in even hundreds of millions of US dollars.

Speakers

Dr. Arun Kasi
