The Bar Council Cyberlaw Committee, in collaboration with the Bar Council Continuing Professional Development (“CPD”) Department, is proud to present the Cyber Law Upskilling Series. This series is aimed at helping participants understand contemporary issues related to the intersection of law and cyberspace.

The management of physical contracts remains a labour-intensive, and at times, inefficient task. In addition, the COVID-19 pandemic has brought about a major shift in the way companies do business, and has also resulted in the abrupt transition to working remotely. Therefore, it is more important than ever for companies to accelerate the digitalisation of their operations and business.

An integral part that needs to be looked at is contracting, as contracts are a necessity and touch all aspects of a business. However, with the digitalisation of contracts, various issues will arise, such as digital authentication, data security, and data protection.

In this CPD Live webinar, participants will explore the differences between physical contracts and digitalised contracts, the laws facilitating digital contracts, and the possible issues arising from the digitalisation of business processes.

Speaker

Adlin Abdul Majid is a partner at Lee Hishammuddin Allen & Gledhill’s Technology, Media & Telecommunications (“TMT”) Practice Group. After qualifying as an advocate and solicitor at the High Court of Malaya, Adlin commenced her legal career in civil and commercial litigation. In 2002, she left legal practice to join the agency responsible for the Government of Malaysia’s Multimedia Super Corridor initiative and the development of the information and communications technology industry in Malaysia.

Since returning to legal practice in 2011, Adlin has advised clients on a range of information and communications technology issues, including drafting and negotiating agreements for network facilities and services, business process outsourcing, cloud computing and software-as-a-service. Adlin also advises on regulatory issues relating to technology, such as the digitalisation of businesses, e-commerce and Internet-of-things, which cover laws such as the Electronic Commerce Act 2006 and the Personal Data Protection Act 2010.

Adlin was recently ranked as a “Leading Lawyer” in technology, media and communications (“TMT”) by the Legal 500 Asia-Pacific 2020. She is also a contributor to several notable publications.

A Step-By-Step Guide to Join CPD Live via Zoom

CPD Live is an initiative by the Bar Council during the Movement Control Order.

Continue learning even while at home. We're here to inspire you, connect with you and learn with you. This guide will show you how to join the CPD Live smoothly.

01

For seamless streaming, download the Zoom app.

You will be given a webinar ID and a password to join CPD Live once your registration has been confirmed.

02

Log in to Zoom, and provide your username.

For Members of the Bar or pupils in chambers, use the format below for identification purposes when prompted: Full name (as per NRIC) | Bar Council membership number or petition number.

For non-Members, provide your full name only.

03

Set up your space.

Find a spot which is comfortable and free from background noises. You may use an earpiece with microphone for clarity. Having a strong internet connection is equally important.

04

Please raise your questions only during the Question-and-Answer session.

Please take note that no speaking is allowed when CPD Live is taking place.

If you wish to raise a question, please type in the Q&A box and the speaker will respond accordingly.

05

Please do not do these

Sharing screen recording and webinar ID and password links, and reproducing the content of the CPD Live session on any platform.

Any unregistered person may be removed without prior notice and no CPD point will be awarded. Failure to adhere to this may result in disciplinary action by the Bar Council.
